UTAHWHEAT SHUT OUT

Prohibitive Rate Announced by the

From 84 to 87.60 Per Ton, Which Fixes the Utah Price of Wheat at 25 Cents Per Bushel, Ten Cents Second Track Will Be Begun Next Less Than Price of Potatoes.

Surelary that didn't come out at his companies to the rate has been used to the proposed the pro some sopt of headway with the other bigher priced commodities that are awaiting shipment at all freight depots—and incidentally make hay while the sun shines.

Argument No. I says that the Southern Pacific has more business than it knows what to do with. Their cars are all in commission and groaning under the heaviest burdens they have ever known; their depots are stacked with goods awaiting shipment; the consignees and consignors are impatient, and, in fact, the freight department of the road is so congested with goods classified under high tariffs that a practically prohibitive tariff had to be placed upon something, and the something turns out to be wheat. There is no money in it these days, and the Southern Queen in these days, and the Southern Pacific company is not husiling around the country for its health.

The flat has knocked the pins from under the local wheat market, and at Logan it is now worth 10 cents less per bushel than potatoes. A tremendous slump is bound to occur as soon as the order goes into effect. If it is not discounted before that time. It costs 10 cents per hundred to transport wheat from Logan to Ogden, and with present prices the dealers there say they will not be able to give more they. It cents per hundred to transport wheat from Logan to Ogden, and with present prices the dealers there say they will not be able to give more they. It cents per hundred to transport wheat from Logan to Ogden, and with present prices the dealers there say they will not be able to give more they. It cents per bushel for wheat deli's wheat in San Francisco, napping, and involve them in no ead of financial difficulties. Unless the Utah farmers are able to find an outlet by way of Portland, is looks as if they would be left with a wheat crop on their hands and no market.

THREE YEARS IN JAIL. Housebreaker Hughes Sentenced On

a Plea of Guilty. William Hughes, a one-armed youth

William Hughes, a one-armed youth recently from Butte and originally from St. Joseph, Mo., was sentenced yesterday by Judge Norrell to serve three years in the state prison for the crime of housebreaking. The offense to which Hughes pleaded guilty on Tuesday was breaking into the house of John J. Gallagher, at 527 East Seventh South street on Oct. 2.

The trials of two other charges of housebreaking and one of burglary against the prisoner were continued for the term. The police are of the opinion that Hughes recently was discharged from the Colorado penitentiary, but if this belief should prove to be unfounded and the presumption becomes clearer that he is innocent of the untried offenses, the probabilities are that the prosecution will dismiss the charges.

He found his house deserted and then went over to the residence of a neighbor, Mr. Avesson.

the residence of a neighbor, Mr. Aveson.

He asked Aveson to go to the Jones residence and tell Mrs. McDonald to come home. He is alleged to have urged Aveson not to tell Mrs. McDonald who wanted her. This aroused Aveson's suspicion and he went to Mrs. Jones with the intention of warning the family that, in his opinion, McDonald had come to make trouble. Neither Mrs. Jones nor Mrs. McDonald was at the house, however, and when Aveson returned to McDonald he so informed him.

RELIEF FOR SANDERS. Judges Disclaim Right to Defend Against His Complaint.

New Trial Will Be Sought.

It is stated that the city will insist upon a new trial, for if the decision in these cases were allowed to stand any plan of straightening out the sidewalk line, even upon compromise lines, in several parts of the city where private property encoaches, would have to be forever abandoned. It was claimed by the city that the law declares no adverse title to public property can be acquired by individuals, but this point was not vigorously pleaded at the trial by the plaintiff.

Another fact that will be cited in support of a motion for a new trial is stated to be that a decision of the United States supreme court has declared that a claim to adverse title, as in the cases at bar, cannot stand unless the chalmants show they have continuously paid taxes on the land held adversely to the municipality. From the record it appeared that the defendants had larger frontage and depth than their deeds called for, but that taxes were assessed only upon the correct descriptions stated in the deeds. However, these points were not cited by plaintiff at the trial. District Judges Hiles. Cherry and Norrell, against whom Thomas Sanders Norrell, against whom Thomas Sanders brought an action recently to reform a townsite deed to lots in Draper executed a quarter of a century ago by the then probate judge, defendants predecessor in office, yesterday filed with the county clerk a waiver of time to answer plaintiff's complaint. County Attorney Putnam also filed for the county a waiver, conditioned, however, that no costs should accrue to the county thereby. This precedure amounts to a discialmer of title upon the part of the district judges and the county and will enable Sanders to obtain the relief he desires.
